HISTORIC HOME COMING DOWN

This old home on Cannon Street, Mattapoisett has survived many a storm since 1800 but now is yielding to the wreckers' bar. There is something very sad about the death of a fine old home and this one is part of Mattapoisett's history. The doorway and front of the house was featured in the original "Down to the Sea in Ships", which was shown at the Old Rochester Regional High School last year by the Historical Society. The Cannon family gave the street its name and this is the Cannon homestead. This home was built by shipbuilders and built to last. The massive hand hewn beams are dovetailed together and still appear to be in excellent condition. The great, wide boards of the floor testify to a building method long gone. Cannon Street will never again appear quite the same when the last beam of this place comes down. This old home is a long familiar face. It's sad to see it go. DCJ

DR. INGRAHAM OF SMTI TO SPEAK AT WOMAN'S CLUB MEETING

Dr. Vernon Ingraham of Marion, a member of the English Department at Southeastern Massachusetts Technological Institute, will be guest speaker for the meeting this Wednesday evening, November 2nd, at the Rochester Woman's Club. His topic will be "The Development of SMTI". Prior to coming here to teach at the college last year, he taught two years each at Gettysburg College and Haverford College, both in Pennsylvania. Dr. Ingraham also taught Mrs. Everett L. Hardy will preside at the business meeting which will start at 8:00 P.M. Hostesses for the meeting will be Mrs. Merton Hartley, chairman; assisted by Mmes. David M. Fearing, George Wood and Edgar Martin.

Mrs. Hardy and Mrs. George E. Church are co-chairmen of a rummage sale to be held on Saturday morning, November 5th, from 9 to 12 noon at the club house on Marion Road. Further donations will be very welcome and picked up on request by calling the chairmen. Articles needed are children's and adults' clothing, shoes, pocketbooks, costume jewelry, hats and bric-a-brac. The club house will be open to receive donations on Friday evening.

Orders for scholarship calendars are still being accepted by Mrs. Irving Ellis, chairman of the Raymond C. Hartley Scholarship Fund.

Mrs. Hardy announces that all program books have been distributed and programs for the year are as follows: December 5--annual Christmas Party for Rochester children, Mrs. George E. Church, chairman; December 12--Christmas Party and Dinner for members and guests, Mrs. Margaret Benner, chairman. On January 4, 1967, Mrs. George E. Church, chairman of Department of Public Health, will present a speak-

Miss Doris Fearing was pronounced first runner-up in the Statewide Prince and Princess contest, sponsored by the State Grange. Doris was nominated from the Mattapoisett Grange and then judged by committee from Sippican Pomona and then to the State. The contest included the writing of a paper on the seven basic questions of Grange work and an oral examination, given by the State Youth chairman and his committee to all the contestants from all over the State in Auburn. Doris held a close average to Miss Janet Field of Needham. Miss Field was crowned Princess of the State by the worthy State Master, Frank Nelson.

Many in Mattapoisett know Edward Maxa of Pocasset who was chosen Prince. Mr. Maxa started his Grange career in the Mattapoisett Junior Grange and then entered Pocasset Junior Grange when it was reorganized.

Miss Fearing has had many parts and honors in the State Grange through her Home and Community work in Junior Grange.

Those taking part in the class of 182 candidates in the 6th degree from Mattapoisett were Miss Susan Bence, the master; and the Misses Christine Bence and Doris Fearing.

On the Junior Day, the 28th, the worthy Junior Master, Mark Harris, and lecturer, Joseph Alves, were in attendance. They enjoyed the tour to the Friendly Ice Cream Farm and lunch at Forbes and Wallace as the guests of the State Grange.

The worthy master was on the program and rendered two songs, "How Great Thou Art" and "I Believe".

Mark won first prize for his useful article made with a tin can. Mark made a floor lamp, with a can for the base, broom handle and can at top with candle and lamp chimney.

Joseph Carson received 2nd prize on his Conservation book of wild flowers and leaves, pressed and named.

The Junior Grange received its 17th Seal for the fine work being done by them.

MATT. GIRL JOINS MARINE CORPS

The Marine Corps Recruiting Office in New Bedford announced last week that Miss Laura M. Bates, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert W. Bates of Pinehurst Avenue, Mattapoisett, has enlisted in the Marine Corps and left on Wednesday, October 26th, from Logan Airport, Boston for recruit training at Parris Island, South Carolina.

Miss Bates selected to be stationed in Southern California upon completion of recruit training.

First Sgt. Frank E. Cooper, local recruiter, noted that young ladies who desire to enlist

PASSED CIVIL SERVICE TEST

A list established by Civil Service for promotion to director of public assistance and public welfare, New Bedford Welfare District, was announced recently. A total of 32 men and women were examined August 25. Of this number, five women and five men passed the test. The name of Dorothy A. Manning of 54 Church Street, Mattapoisett was one of them listed who passed.

VALUABLE CITIZEN MOVING

We would like the privilege of speaking for the rest of the citizens of Mattapoisett in wishing Mr. Harold Banks success in his new location. Mr. Banks is moving to Wisconsin where he has accepted a new position. There are some people who do great service for their communities, quietly, efficiently and completely unselfishly. Harry Banks is one of these people. In serving the town on the Finance Committee for these many years, Harry has donated thousands of hours to the welfare of Mattapoisett. These hours have been invaluable in helping to guide the voters in allocating the tax money to the most necessary projects -- the wisest use. The men, who serve in this way, are truly the best of citizens giving fully of their experience and their time in the interest of all of us. Harry Banks has been a friend of every person in town for this service and has been a personal friend to many of these people as well. We hate to lose them but we want to wish Mr. and Mrs. Banks well in their new community. Good luck Harry Banks and to Ginny Banks who will be badly missed in her wide circle of good friends. D.C.J.

TRI-TOWN VETERANS' DAY PARADE

The 9th annual Tri-Town Veterans' Day parade will be held this year in Mattapoisett. The trophies to be awarded to winning units have been displayed at Browne's Drug Store in Marion and are now at Cornwell's Department Store in Wareham, and will be on display at Tinkham's Pharmacy in Mattapoisett next week. Among the units planning to participate are the Fairhaven Satellites, Yankee Division High Sanders Drum Corps, Golden Raiders of Acush-

A VERY SERIOUS MATTER

Until recent times this State and this Congressional District have made significant contributions to the greatness of America.

During the last eight years not one piece of important legislation has been submitted by your Congressman and adopted by the Congress.

He has vacillated on practically every critical issue of our times - and has tried to be recorded both for and against nearly every controversial bill.

It is important to all of us and to future generations that we replace INDECISION and INEPTITUDE with CREATIVENESS and LEADERSHIP...

Any person or organizations not contacted and wishing to take part may do so by calling Robert P. Nunes, chairman, Front Street, Marion, or John Raphael, adjutant, Post #280 American Legion, Mattapoisett.

The Veterans' Day Committee noted that with Mattapoisett acting as host this year with Marion and Wareham, plans are well underway for a colorful parade.

The parade route, list of trophies and prizes and judges will be announced later. The next meeting of the committee will be November 4th at the Legion Hall, Depot Street, Mattapoisett, at 7:30 P.M. when final plans will be made.

SMTI COFFEE HOUSE

Friday evening, November 4th, at 8:00 P.M. should be one of the most interesting sessions of the Coffee House of SMTI to date. Mr. Grattan Gill, job captain on the SMTI project, representing the Boston architectural firm of Desmond and Lord, will speak at the Coffee House on the design of buildings I and II, and on the proposed changes in campus plan. These changes, which involve a simplification of Paul Rudolph's original design are the cause of a growing concern among students, faculty, and friends of SMTI. It is feared that the integrity and continuity of the new campus is at stake. Mr. Jones, head librarian and consultant for SMTI, who has worked closely with Mr. Gill on the plans for the new library building, will also be on hand.

LEGISLATIVE WRAP-UP: 89th CONGRESS, SECOND SESSION - FROM HASTINGS KEITH

The 89th Congress produced much legislation during its 10-months-long second session. Many of the bills enacted were compromises between measures requested by the administration and modified by Congress. In a number of instances, however, the 295 Democratic majority to the 140 Republicans delivered to the President legislation much as he demanded. I shall endeavor to cover the highlights of the second session:

Vietnam - One of the first major bills enacted was a supplemental military appropriation authorization totaling $4.8 billion to meet our military needs in Vietnam. In addition to the regular defense appropriation bill, it is expected another substantial supplemental request will be sent to Congress early next year to meet the rapidly rising costs of the Vietnam war. A $415 million supplementary foreign aid assistance was passed in March, with the majority earmarked for Vietnam.

Education - The Elementary and Secondary Education Act was extended 2 more years after bitter debate over the school desegregation issue. The House appropriated $1.3 billion, slightly less than the $1.75 billion the President requested.

Veterans - More than 3 million cold-war veterans with a minimum of 180 days' active duty since January 31, 1955, are receiving educational and housing benefits under the Peacetime Veterans Benefits Act. College and vocational training is provided, with an allowance of $100 per month for a single veteran taking a full-time course. Home loans are guaranteed up to $7,500.

Auto and Highway Safety - In an effort to curb the mounting death toll on the highways, two bills were enacted--the National Traffic and Motor Vehicle Safety Act and the Highway Safety Act. The $381 million in federal funds are provided over 3 years for setting auto safety and tire standards and research for state and local safety programs. Starting with 1968 models, new cars must carry as standard equipment such safety features as head rests and dual braking systems. Safety standards for used cars go into effect by September 9, 1968.

National Economy - To provide additional revenue for the Vietnam war and domestic spending, the Tax Adjustment Act of 1966 was passed providing for accelerated corporate and personal income tax withholding, and reimposed the 10% excise tax on telephone service and the 7% excise levy on automobiles, both of which had just been reduced January 1, 1966.

Late in the session the House agreed to the President's request to suspend for 16 months the 7% investment credit as an anti-inflationary measure.

Once again the administration asked for a temporary increase on the national debt. This time Congress approved a rise from $328 to $330 billion.

Agriculture - A 2-year, $5 billion extension of the Food for Peace program was approved with an amendment providing for fish protein concentrate to be sold abroad. As this newsletter section goes to press, conferees are trying to iron out differences on other issues in the bills. This measure will increase markets for our farm products. Agriculture, incidentally, is the 12th District's biggest business with more than a $25 million gross annual income.

Freedom of Information Act - Passed on the assumption that the American people have the right and the need to know more about the affairs of government, this measure clarifies and protects the public's right to essential information, going into effect next year.

Labor - Of far-reaching significance is the law increasing and extending minimum wage coverage to 8 million additional employees. For those now covered, the minimum wage will be boosted from $1.25 to $1.40 next February, and to $1.60 in February, 1968. Coverage will be extended to workers in retail stores, restaurants, hotels and a number of other businesses with sales of $500,000 or more next February.

Civil Rights - The controversial fair housing section of the 1966 Civil Rights Bill caused the legislation to die in the Senate for this session when a motion to cut off a filibuster failed.

Poverty - Congress passed a $1.75 billion extension of the anti-poverty program with some

BUILDINGS DEDICATED AT JOB CORPS
ONE NAMED AFTER THE LATE OSBORN NASH

The Rodman Job Corps Center was described Saturday as an educational institution designed "to prevent the most tragic waste of all -- the waste of human talent".

Dr. Joseph L. Driscoll, president of Southeastern Massachusetts Technological Institute, made the statement as three new buildings were dedicated to the memories of men who died in the service of their fellowman.

The three buildings are: 1., A $282,000 dining hall, named after James Kevin O'Leary of New Bedford, a 19-year old Marine Lance Corporal killed last July fighting in Viet Nam. 2. A $149,000 student-faculty building, named after Osborn P. Nash of Mattapoisett, one of the first members of the Rodman staff, who died in September. 3. A $159,000 gymnasium, named after Harold N. Phillips, an 18-year old Corpsman who graduated last May 5 and was accidentally shot to death several hours later in Brooklyn, New York, where he had gone to seek a job.

Speaking to an audience of about 300 area guests and staff, Dr. Driscoll said each of the three men had contributed to the welfare of his fellows and "that is what this dedication is all about".

"Like SMTI and other educational institutions," Dr. Driscoll said, "the Rodman Center is a place where young men can learn, and through learning can understand, and through understanding can become loving, free men who can contribute to the welfare of their fellows."

Taking part in the ceremonies were the families of the men after whom the buildings were named -- Mrs. Francis W. O'Leary of New Bedford, mother of Cpl. O'Leary; Howard P. Nash, Jr., of Mattapoisett, brother of Osborn Nash; and Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Phillips of Brooklyn, parents of the late Corpsman.

They were given copies of the plaques that were placed in the buildings.

Center Director Theodore E. Nelson gave the welcoming address. He introduced President Lawrence W. Caton and William E. Hall of the New Bedford City Council.

During an open house after the formal ceremony, guides conducted visitors on a tour of the 51-building facility, which is located at the tip of the Clarks Point peninsula in New Bedford.

Thomas Dunn, George F. Fisher, David Goodenough, James H. Hinman, Ernest Horrocks, Louis F. Klein, Wayne C. Knight, Russell La France, Clifton E. Macomber, Timothy J. Manning, David C. Moore, Thomas Mulvihill, Lee S. Root, Charles A. Tavares, William B. Keavy, George R. Boyce, Arthur W. McLean, Robert A. VanStone, Chester W. Wing, and Miss Jessie W. K. Peacock. Mrs. George DeMello, subscription manager for the State Federation magazine, Topics, presented each new member with a copy.

Mrs. Louis Corey, Jr., first vice-president, introduced the honored guest, Mrs. Marshall W. Ross, third vice-president of the State Federation of Women's Club and charter member of the Mattapoisett Club. Mrs. Ross told how the State Federation was begun by Julia Ward Howe in 1893 with a motto of "Learn, Teach, Serve and Enjoy". She also told of its present day services to us all.

Miss Lydia LeBaron Walker presented Mrs. Oxnard with a gift of a silver water pitcher, engraved in honor of the occasion and given by Mrs. Paul J. Keller, founder and first president of the club.

Mrs. William G. Saltonstall of Marion gave a fascinating talk on her stay in Nigeria where her husband was in charge of the Peace Corps. She told of her daily life, duties and pleasures. She included many interesting anecdotes and displayed numberous pictures and items of clothing. The club gave her a gift of money to be sent to a woman's club of her choice in Nigeria.

A pleasant tea prepared by Mmes. Ralph C. Dunn, Earl Masterson, Fred A. Bieringer and Arthur Roderick was then enjoyed by all. A three tiered anniversary cake, presented by Mrs. David Todd, hostess for the day, was cut. Mrs. Edwin L. Perkins and Mrs. Lewis F. Klein poured. The many guests and members enjoyed sitting in small groups at tables decorated with white milk glass vases of chrysanthemums and silver cornucopias of candy.

The club's programs for the remainder of the year are as follows: November 17th, "A Treasury of Christmas Decorations" by Elsie B. Freeman, Mrs. Charles A. Adams, hostess; December 15th, a Christmas Play by the club's drama group, Mrs. John R. Moynihan, director, Mrs. Manuel F. Roza, hostess; January 26th, "Tricks from Tradition" by Mrs. William P. Suzan, Mrs. Robert E. Crabbe, hostess; February 16th, "Interior Decoration" by Miss Ruth Atkinson, Mrs. Thomas Dunn, hostess; March 23rd, "Show and Tell Day" with club members participating, morning coffee and catered luncheon; honored guests, Mrs. Samuel W. Lovell, third district director and club presidents of the third district; April 2nd, "New England Weather" by Don Kent, guest night, 8 P.M., executive board members hostesses with Mrs. Benjamin Brintnall and Mrs. Gertrude Fietz, co-chairmen; May, annual meeting, election of officers, time and place to be announced, hostesses, Mrs. Howard C. Logan, Mrs. Frank Kouble and Mrs. George O. Gardner, board of directors.

EDITORIAL

The following editorial by Alan C. McIntosh, editor of the Rock County Herald in Minnesota, appeared in that paper on May 13, 1965. Since then it has been reprinted over and over again by newspapers and magazines, and has been read over the air by countless radio and TV stations. The editorial won one of journalism's most coveted honors, The Freedom Foundation of Valley Forge award for the best editorial in the nation in 1965.

A "Tired American" Gets Angry

I am a tired American. I am tired of being called the ugly American. I'm tired of having the world panhandlers use my country as a whipping boy 365 days a year.

I am a tired American--weary of having American embassies and information centers stoned, burned and sacked by mobs operating under orders from dictators who preach peace and breed conflict.

I am a tired American--weary of being lectured by General de Gaulle (who never won a battle) who poses as a second Jehovah in righteousness and wisdom.

I am a tired American--weary of Nasser and all the other blood-sucking leeches who bleed Uncle Sam white and kick him on the shins and yank his beard if the flow falters.

I am a tired American--weary of the beatniks who say they should have the right to determine what laws of the land they are willing to obey.

I am a tired American--fed up with the mobs of scabby-faced, long-haired youths and short-haired girls who claim they represent the "new wave" of America and who sneer at the old-fashioned virtues of honesty, integrity, and morality on which America grew to greatness.

I am a tired American--weary unto death of having my tax dollars go to dictators who play both sides against the middle with threats of what will happen if we cut off the golden stream of dollars.

I am a tired American--who is getting madder by the minute at the Americans in an obscenity race--who try to foist on us the belief that filth is an integral part of culture--in the arts, the movies, literature, the stage.

BULLDOZER WORK

I am a tired American--weary of the bearded bums who tramp the picket lines and the sit-ins--who prefer Chinese communism to capitalism--who see no evil in Castro, but sneer at President Johnson as a threat to peace.

I am a tired American--who has lost all patience with that civil rights group which is showing propaganda movies on college campuses from coast to coast. Movies denouncing the United States. Movies made in Communist China.

I am a tired American--who is angered by the self-righteous breast-beater critics in America, at home and abroad, who set impossible yardsticks for the United States but never apply the same standards to the French, the British, the Russians, the Chinese.

I am a tired American--sickened by the slack-jawed bigots who wrap themselves in bedsheets in the dead of night and roam the countryside looking for innocent victims.

I am a tired American who dislikes clergymen who have made a career out of integration causes, yet send their children to private schools.

I am a tired American who resents those who try to peddle the belief in schools and colleges that capitalism is a dirty word and that free enterprise and private initiative are only synonyms for greed.

They say they hate capitalism, but they are always right at the head of the line demanding their share of the American way of life.

I am a tired American--real tired of those who are trying to sell me the belief that America is not the greatest Nation in all the world -- a generous-hearted Nation -- a Nation dedicated to the policy of trying to help the "have nots" achieve some of the good things that our system of free enterprise brought about.

I am an American who gets a lump in his throat when he hears "The Star Spangled Banner" and who holds back tears when he hears those chilling high notes of the brassy trumpets when Old Glory reaches the top of the flagpole.

I am a tired American who thanks a merciful Lord that he was so lucky to born an American citizen -- a Nation under God, truly with mercy and justice for all.
